Privacy policy and the use of cookies on fluffo.pl website

The data collected in the logs is used exclusively for the purpose of the website administration. We do not seek to identify users of fluffo.pl. The identification data is never transferred to a third party.

Data collection

According to the accepted practice of most websites, we store HTTP enquiries directed to our server. The browsed resources are identified by URL addresses. The exact list of information stored in the web server log files is as follows:

- / public IP address of the enquiring computer (it could be the user's computer),
- / client station's name - identified by the HTTP protocol, when possible,
- / username provided during the authorization process,
- / date and time of access,
- / the first HTTP request line,
- / HTTP answer code,
- / the number of bytes transferred within the limits of the connection,
- / URL address of the page previously visited by the user (referrer link) - where the transition to fluffo.pl website be by reference,
- / information about the user's browser,
- / information about errors that occurred during the implementation of the HTTP transaction.

This data is only stored and used by us in such a way as not to identify a specific person browsing the fluffo.pl website. To ensure the highest quality of service, we occasionally analyse the log files to determine which pages are visited most frequently, which web browsers are used, whether the page structure does not contain errors, etc.

Use of data

The collected logs are stored for an indefinite period of time as an auxiliary material used for website administration. The information contained therein is not disclosed to anyone except persons authorized to administer the server. Log file statistics can be generated to assist in administration. Overall summaries in the form of such statistics do not contain any identifying characteristics of individuals visiting the website.

The Cookies mechanism on fluffo.pl

The Cookies mechanism is not used to obtain any information about users of the website or to track their navigation. Cookies used on our site do not store any personal data or any other information collected from users.
